Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: Applicant's representative argued that the combination of references do not provide any motivation to provide a composition wherein at least 95% of the weight of the composition is a radical polymerization inhibitor and the claimed ester. Applicant's representative also argued, with regard to claim 2, that triethyl amine (a radical polymerization inhibitor) was either consumed or washed away in the disclosed reaction, and therefore, was not present in the final composition of Vansteenkiste. Applicant's representative also argued that the references do not disclose "storing" of the claimed composition, nor does the reference disclose a light-proof structure. Applicant's representative also argued that the reaction of Vansteenkiste comprises a reaction of an alcohol, and an anhydride, not the required ester, nor a light-proof structure. Applicant's representative also argued that the reference did not disclose the required oxygen content, nor a light-proof structure, during purification of the ester.
